CHARLEROI HIGH SCHOOL WINS EASILY COUNTY FIELD EVENTS

Cup For First Honors is Retained and College Banner is Secured at Washington

ATHLETES SHOW TRAINING

Charleroi Athletic Team Well Balanced—Hill and Stahlman Receive Cups When Presented—Charleroi Wins Eight First of Possible 12.

Fully 2,000 persons saw the athletes of Charleroi High school romp through to first place for the second consecutive time in Class I and Centerville High school unexpectedly carry off honors in Class II in the third annual meet for the high schools of Washington county which was staged at College Field Washington Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Washington county Interscholastic Athlete Association.

The finely trained boys from the Magic City scored 89 out of a possible 180 points in Class I. The other schools competing in this class and the order in which they ranked follow: second, Monongahela, 39 1-2; third Washington 34; fourth Burgettstown, 10 1-2; Canonsburg and Donora tied for fifth place with 8 each.

In Class II the competition was decidedly closer, with Centerville, Peters and North Strabane the warmest contenders. Centerville athlets scored 47 points those of Peters township 37 and North Strabane 31 1-2. Moris township was fourth with 27 points and East Washington, winner last year in this division fifth with 24; Ellsworth-Cokeburg finished sixth with 20 1-2 and Mt. Pleasant township seventh with 8. Cecil failed to score a point

Chairman E. F. Westlake announced at the conclusion of the meet that next year the preliminary heats would be run in the morning and only the finals staged in the afternoon.

Victory came to Charleroi high again in Class I because the school had a more evenly balanced and better trained squad. Every member was a consistent point winner. The highest individual scorer in this class was Hill, of Charleroi, with 14. Stahlman his teammate, was second with 12.

A notable feature of the meet was the fact that there was a general improvement over the marks made last year. The only events in which last year's records were not excelled follow: Shot put and hurdles in Class I, relay in both classes and the 440-yard dash in Class I, which was just 1-5 of a second slower this year.

Charleroi brought home two cups. Both were awarded in the evening. John L. Stewart, of the Observer Publishing company awarded Observer-Reporter trophies. Charleroi high retains the cup. Gibson Hill, acting captain of the track team accepted with a neat speech. The Washington & Jefferson college banner was presented to Charleroi for scoring the greatest number of points of any of the schools in either class 1 or 2.

The basketball cup won by Charleroi high in their county victory during the winter was presented by W. W. Hague of the Daily News and received by Chester C. Stahlman, captain of the team, who made a brief speech.

The booster cup for the day was won by the sophomore clas sof Washington High school and the cheering

GAS COMPANY MAKING MOVE TO PREVENT FURTHER GAS SHORTAGE

Philadelphia Drilling in Whetsell County, West Virginia Fields—Pipe Lines Being Laid

The Philadelphia Gas company which supplies the Macbeth-Evans Glass company here and the immense Donora mills with gas, is taking steps to avoid a gas shortage during the coming winter such as was experienced the last year. This company has bought extensive fields in Whetsell county, West Virginia, and is now employing a large force of men laying 16-inch mains to tap the field. The new lines will be completed, it is expected before fall to meet the needs of the situation. In addition to supplying industries in various parts of Western Pennsylvania the company supplies other companies which in turn sell to private consumers.

RECORD NUMBER OF CASES LISTED

Sixty-Seven to be Heard at the Coming Term of Criminal Court

HUSTON ROBBERY UP MAY 24

Sixty-seven cases are listed for the May term of criminal court, which convened this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Eleven homicide indictments wil be presented, the largest number listed at any one term in the history of the criminal court of this county. Cases are listed up to and including Thursday, May 25. This means there will be practically three weeks of criminal court. Common pleas court is convened on Monday, May 22, so that for one week criminal cases will be heard in one court and common pleas cases in another.

The case of the commonwealth against Thomas H. Talbot, who was indicted Thursday for his alleged part in the robbery of the First National Bank at Houston, has been set for Wednesday, May 24

No homicide cases are listed for this week. They will be taken up the following week. Mrs. Lillian Roupe, of Washington indicted for the killing of her husband, William L. Roupe, on the night of December 31 last, will be called for trial on Monday, May 22 the third week. Samuel E. McPherson, of Monongahela, who shot and killed Wallace J Hilton, his step-father, will be put on trial on Thursday, May 18. There is much interest in both these cases. Both defendants are out under heavy bail.

It is expected that the list will be reduced somewhat by pleas, before the cases are called, or by the continuance of some. There is a large number of illegal liquor selling cases.

TREMONT MINERS GO BACK TO WORK TODAY

Last Mine to Hold Out for Scale Changes in District Starts Operations Following Meeting With Organizers Present to Explain

With the return to work this morning by many officials in resumption of mining of miners of the Tremont mine of the Pittsburg Coal company, every mine in the district, so far as is known is operating, with the run of mine basis of pay prevailing. The Tremont settlement was effected at a meeting Sunday attended and addressed by John O'Leary, international board member and William Feeney, international organizer.

The miner at the Tremont mine refused to return to work upon the agreement with the Pittsburg Coal company being reached in New York there was necessarily delay in putting the run of mine system of pay into effect.

At a meeting Monday the miners were informed that by the contract signed by the district operators were given 90 days to put the run of mine system into effect and that "a contract is a contract." The 90-day time limit runs from the first of April and will expire the first of July. The Tremont was one of the last to hold of mines in the district.

TODAY 93RD BIRTHDAY OF DR. JOHN S. VANVOORHIS

Famous Belle Vernon Physician Receiving Friends in Celebration—Prominent for His Life Work

Today is the 93rd birthday of Dr. John S. Van Voorhis of Belle Vernon, one of the best known residents and historians of the Monongahela valley. He is celebrating the day quietly at home receiving callers.

Dr. Van Voorhis was born May 8, 1823 on what is known as the Van Voorhis farm near Monongahela City, or Parkinson's Ferry as it was then known. He took up medicine early and was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia in 1847. He settled in Belle Vernon. From Belle Vernon he was elected to the legislature and was active in calling the first regular Republican convention to nominate a candidate for governor and other officers. He helped wrest Fayette county from Democratic control and was always active in politics. He holds a record for attending more conventions and presiding over more than any man living.

He has written numerous historical articles of the Monongahela valley and many medical stories. As a physician he was during his years of activity one of the most noted.

He is the oldest alumnus of Washington college and the only member of his class living today.

GREB PROVES HIMSELF TOO FAST FOR WENZEL

Pittsburgers Show Cleverness—Brennan-Cumings Bout Called in Second Round, Cummings' Ankle Bothering Too Much.

In the main bout of a show at the Charleroi Skating rink Saturday night given by the Charleroi Boxing Club, Harry Grebb led Whitey Wenzel all the way through six rounds and generally outpointed him. The fight was one-sided. Grebb's defense was of the best, but he showed his cleverness by pushing Wenzel all the way through and punishing him severely.

In the semi-final argument K. O. Brennan and Danny Cummings appeared. The bout was stopped in the second round, Cummings' ankle which was sprained in an engagement at the rink two weeks ago bothering him to such an extent that the fight was called off. Up until this time the boxing had been fast. The pair is evenly matched. Another bout may be arranged for them.

The second fight of the evening ended in a knockout. Young Roscoe of Donora ended Bart McGinnis' hopes by clouting him a dreamer after the fight was well along. This was one of the best matches of the evening. Roscoe had the reach and heighth but McGinnis was clever and showed spunk.

Walter Rodgers of Mount Washington and Mart Henderson of Donora participated in a good six round argument as the first bout. It might be called a draw.

A crowd of probably 1,000 fans attended the show, which was capably refereed by William Riley of Monessen.

FORTY THOUSAND MEN IN COKE REGIONS BENEFIT BY ADVANCE

Five to Ten Per Cent Aded to Wages Of Frick Employes and Competing Companies in Fayette.

Forty thousand workers in the coke region were affected by a wage increase of from 5 to 10 per cent, announced Saturday by the H. C. Frick Coke Company. The W. J. Rainel Coke company and others immediately announced they would meet the Frick scale. The increase gives common laborers 10 per cent more, while other workmen are given 5 per cent increases. Several weeks ago the men were granted an increase of 10 per cent. Connellsville coke region miners and coke drawers are now said to be the highest paid labor of that class in the world

No Change at Plant of Hussey Binns Shovel Company Where Number Quit

PART OF PLANT OPERATING

There is practically no change in the situation at the Hussey Binns Shovel plant where last week about half the number of men employed quit work, expressing dissatisfaction over an advance in wages. The handlers are chiefly affected and so far none of them have returned to work though it is declared that fully 90 per cent are willing to go back.

Part of the plant is continuing in operation steadily, and will continue in operation if nothing unforseen occurs.

By the strike there is a reduction in the plant's payroll of about $2,000 per week.

COST OF WORK DOING HIGH

Difficulties of Construction Experienced Because of Deep Cuts and Trouble With Slides—Will Make Improved Road Through to Pittsburg.

The Elkhorn road across the river from Monongahela will be completed by Allegheny county, according to the decision just reached after various investigations of various projects, of which one was to cross the river with a bridge at Courtney and connect up highways. The road is one into which already thousands of dollars have been poured because of difficulty of construction. Many thousand more will have to be spent before it is completed, in spite of the fact that the stretch is only three miles in length.

A delegation of Forward township, Bunola and Elizabeth residents, along with many influential business men of McKeesport had a meeting at Pittsburg with the commissioners Friday and the visitors were given the assurance that the highway would be completed at the earliest possible date. The commisioners stated they had gone over the road ten days ago and that they thought then it would be better and less expense in the long run to build a bridge at Courtney. However Washington county could not be interested in the mistakes of Allegheny county and could not see the bridge proposition favorably. The road it was estimated could be finished for $90.000, but now it appears that it will cost fully $190,000.

The extreme cost of the road has been due to the deep cuts necessary. The moving slides has taken time and money, until contractors and officials alike appeared at their wits ends.

By the completion of the stretch of highway an improved road will be afforded from the east end of the Monongahela river bridge to McKeesport and by crosing the river into Clairton, into Pittsburg. By crossing the Monessen bridge here, following the Monessen-Webster road to Donora, crossing there and following the improved road to Monongahela, a complete road from here will be result.

LOCAL MORTGAGE FARMS.

The [illegible] mortgages on farms [illegible] in [illegible] 5 per cent annually [illegible] years, and [illegible] not no less [illegible]

The first effect of the [illegible]ment, says the Pittsburgh [illegible] will be to make every farm [illegible] food richer. And the owner will be justified in a certain [illegible] congratulation. It should be recognized, however, that much of the increase is illusory. The [illegible] more dollars, but those dollars will not buy so much. Values in general are rising—which is to say, the value of the dollar is sinking.

The only reason the farm-owner has for rejoicing is that his land has really been going up a little faster than money has been going down. If he sells his farm today he can really get for the proceeds more of the necessaries and luxuries of life than he could have got ten or fifteen years ago for what the farm would have brought then.

The man who profits most, however, is the farmer with a mortgage. This is a truth that has been given little attention. While prices are rising—and money depreciating—the long-term debtor doesn't pay back as much as he borrowed because the sum he pays back will not buy, now, what it bought when he borrowed. Thus if a farm is carried on borrowed money, an added land value of 5 per cent a year will nearly take care of the interest, and the debtor makes a sort of profit by paying the principal with cheaper money.

As for the farmer whose land is paid for, the only way he can profit by the situation is to sell his farm and buy a cheaper one. Higher values to him mean simply higher taxes, and many a farmer as his acerage values go up finds himself "land-poor" instead of enviable

THE PUBLICITY HOG.

Many persons who have sought publicity within recent years have found it increasingly difficult to secure the publication of their articles. This is due primarily to the fact that the columns of news matter gathered by the newspapers and of publicity matter tendered to them has increased enormously, says the Monessen Independent. With growth of population, new public interests, new public offices and new governmental activities for gathering it have multiplied and improved. The newspapers daily receive about twice as much matter as they can publish within their available space.

Seekers of publicity also defeat their purpose by attempting to "hog" space. Much of the copy tendered for publication is unnecessarily long bearing evidence of loose thinking and loose diction. Not many persons would read such articles if they saw, and in many cases not even abstracts thereof are published. This is an age of short stories and moving pictures, and the public likes at long spectacles. A newspaper must devote its columns to the publication of news within reasonable bounds.

This is the attitude of the public which is the prime factor in determining the size of a newspaper and its space available for publication of publicity matters secondly, considers the matter of expense.

It costs many dollars more to increase the size of a single issue of a newspaper of considerable circulation by as much as a single sheet, and to say has been found to add less than a sheet. If the newspapers of this country were to increase the size of their editions by as much as one sheet every day, a majority of them would go broke or be compelled to hunt suicides.

Brownsville would [illegible] romance to its industrial [illegible] by resuming shipbuilding. For this industry in years past Brownsville became famous. Many a steamboat craft that plied the Mississippi, the Ohio and Mississippi rivers were built in Brownsville and the label of Brownsville was sufficient guarantee of its durability. Building boats laid the foundation for a number of private fortunes. Days have changed, most certainly, and the railroads with their quick transit have pushed aside the once-admired river steamers, but they have not dimmed the memory nor done away with the glamor of romance. And one of these days there will be a "come back", not in the old-time proportions, but in a way that will be worth while and a benefit to the business interests now hankering back to old modes.

A few men seem utterly unable to comprehend the importance of treating the public decently when engaged in a place of responsibility and trust. The "public be damned" theory used to prevail but it does so no more. Generous treatment has been found to pay in and it does so more than ever. It doesn't pay to withhold too much information from the public. It lays the one doing so open to suspicion. But there is a ray of hope. The tendency to-day is toward publicity and the more of it the better for those who understand.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

* * * * * * * * * *

A prominent San Francisco clubman has a country home down at San Mateo, where most of the wealthy folks of the city live. Recently he had an automobile accident at a lonely spot on the road where he found it impossible to reach a telephone to notify his wife.

Now, it happened that he was happily married, very domesticated, and not accustomed to staying out at night. So at midnight his wife became very nervous. She dispatched the following telegram to five of her husband's best friends in the city:

"Jack hasn't come home. Am worried. Is he spending the night with you?"

Soon after this her husband arrived home and explained the cause of his delay. While he was talking a boy brought in five answers to her telegrams, all worded thus:

"Yes, Jack is spending the night with me."

"Your condition is very serious", said the doctor—"very serious indeed. What you need is an entire change of scene."

The patient looked puzzled. "But doctor——" he began.

"There's no but about it," insisted the physician. "A complete change of scene is the only thing that will cure you. By the way, what is your vocation?"

"I'm a scene shifter."

Three Types of Mines.

Submarine mines are of three types. First ground mines which are usually of great size and laid directly on the bottom of shallow seas; second, anchored mines, which are attached by a cable to a weight on the bottom and are designed to float at a predetermined depth, so that they will touch and be detonated by passing ships, and, third, floating mines, which are dropped on the surface of the water.

Origin of Languages.

Languages grow like trees, and their diversity is owing to the differing local causes. One of the best short treatises on languages is the chapter on that subject in Tylor's "Anthropology." The story in Genesis about the Tower of Babel is not nowadays accepted by scholars as being of very much historical value.

Queer Indian Custom.

The Haidu Indians living on the Queen Charlotte islands of our Alaskan possessions, were until a few years ago divided strictly into two tribes, Ravens and Eagles, both strictly exogamic, which is to say that Eagle men had to Marry Raven women and vice versa, the children according to a tribal law, becoming members of the mother's tribe and returning to that group when half grown to receive training and ultimately inherit the family property.

WITH APPLE AS BASIS

SUGGESTIONS FOR SEVERAL APPETIZING CONFECTIONS.

In Addition to Its Medicinal Virtues the Fruit Forms One of the Best Foundations for Innumerable Delicacies.

Apple Cobbler.—Pare and quarter enough tart apples to fill a baking dish three-fourths full. Cover with a rich baking powder biscuit dough made soft enough to stir, spread it over the apples without rolling. Make several cuts in the center to allow the steam to escape. Bake for three-quarters of an hour and serve hot with sugar and rich cream.

Cooked Apples.—Take tart, ripe apples of uniform size, remove the cores. Place the fruit in the bottom of a porcelain kettle; spread thickly with sugar; cover the bottom of the kettle with water and allow the apples to simmer until tender. Pour the sirup over the apples and serve cold.

Apple Conserve.—For each pound of quartered and pared apples allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar and half a pint of water. Boil sugar and water until a rich sirup is formed; add the apples and simmer until clear. Take up carefully, lay on plates and dry in the sun. Roll in sugar and pack in tin boxes lined with waxed paper.

Apple Compote and Orange Marmalade.—Boil 12 tart apples in one quart of water until tender, strain through a jelly bag; add one pound of granulated sugar and let boil. While boiling add 12 apples, cored and pared. When the apples are tender, drain them carefully in a perforated skimmer. Boil the sirup until it jells; fill the apples with orange marmalade and pour the sirup over them. Serve with whipped cream.

Crab Apple Marmalade.—Wash and core crab apples and put them through the meat chopper. Put into a preserving kettle and add water until it shows through the top layer of apples. Cook until soft. Weigh and add an equal weight of sugar. Cook until the mixture forms a jelly when cooled and pour into sterilized glasses. Cover with paraffin.

Apple Custard.—Beat the yolks of four eggs and add one-half cupful of sugar; cook for one or two minutes and remove from the fire. Gradually add one pint of grated apple. Pour into a serving dish and cover with a meringue made of the well-beaten whites of four eggs and three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar.

Cheese Croquettes.

Make a white sauce, using two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-third cupful of flour, two-thirds cupful of milk. Add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, paprika, the yolks of two eggs, one-half cupful cream cheese, grated, and one cupful of cream cheese cut in small pieces. Cool, shape, allowing one rounding tablespoonful to each croquette, and roll in balls. Add two tablespoonfuls of cold water to the whites of the eggs, dip in crumbs prepared by drying the bread, and putting through the meat chopper. Dip in the egg, then in crumbs again. Fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. This is a very hearty dish, good for hard labor, indoors or out.

Honey Cakes.

One cupful butter or three-quarters cupful manufactured shortenings; one and one-half cupfuls honey, one teaspoonful soda, three eggs, three cupfuls flour, two cupfuls raisins chopped, one teaspoonful salt, one and one-half teaspoonfuls cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful nutmeg, two cupfuls nut meats. Cream the butter. Warm the honey, dissolve soda in it and mix with butter. Then add flour, which has been sifted with the salt and spices. Last of all, add raisins and nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered baking sheets and bake in moderate oven.—Mother's Magazine.

Attractive Dessert.

The ingredients needed for this are a pint of cream, the white of one egg, half a cupful of sugar, half a cupful of nuts, chopped fine; 12 figs and six dates. Beat the cream until stiff with the white of egg. Sweeten this, add the nuts and fruit, the latter cut in small pieces. Mix all thoroughly and put into a wet mold. Cover tightly and pack in salt and ice for four hours. This quantity will serve eight people.

Veal in a Mold.

This is a dish that can be prepared the day before and can be served cold for the next day's luncheon or dinner. Boil a knuckle of veal until tender. Pour on the water in which it was boiled and mince the veal. Add the minced veal to the juice and pour in a mold. Add thin slices of hard-boiled egg and place in a cool place, and when cold place on the ice. Serve on a platter garnished with parsley.

Apricot Pie de Lux.

Soak apricots over night in cold water, fill pie plate as you would apple pie, but do not put in any undercrust, then add one-half cupful sugar, a few dots of butter and some cinnamon. Cover with a rich crust and bake. Serve while warm and cover with whipped cream.

Frankfurter Sausage.

Put the sausage in a saucepan to the side of the stove, let them remain ten minutes without boiling, then serve.

RECIPES WORTH WHILE

FIVE DELICIOUS DISHES THAT ARE EASY TO PREPARE.

Egg Noodles With Anchovies May Be Recommended—Vermicelli Sweet Custard Excellent—Proper Preparation of Macaroni Soup.

Egg Noodles With Anchovies.—Fry a small onion, sliced, in butter with a teaspoonful of chopped parsley; add six boned anchovies, cut in four pieces each; stir in three-quarters of a cupful of white wine and a cupful of cooked egg noodles and simmer gently for 20 minutes. Serve with grated cheese.

Egg Noodle Sweet Souffle.—Add half a package of cooked egg noodles to two cupfuls of hot milk, and let stand on back of stove until milk is mostly absorbed, then let it cool and add a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of sugar, the beaten yolks of two eggs, and whites beaten to a stiff froth. Turn into a buttered souffle mold, set it in a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven 25 minutes. Serve immediately alone or with sweetened cream.

Vermicelli Sweet Custard.—To half a package of cooked vermicelli add two cupfuls hot milk, a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of sugar, two eggs well beaten and half a teaspoonful of vanilla. Turn into a buttered baking dish, set dish in a pan of hot water in oven and bake until the custard is set.

Macaroni Soup.—To one quart of boiling water, salted, add a large handful of macaroni, boil 20 minutes, drain and blanch. Add two cupfuls of strained stewed tomatoes, season highly and just before serving add a cupful of cream.

Soup Spanish With Rings.—Simmer in three quarts of water two pounds of lean meat for two hours. Skim well as it boils, then add one cupful of cooked white beans, four onions chopped fine, two cloves of garlic, four red peppers chopped, and two slices of lemon, salt to taste; allow this to cook thoroughly until soft, strain through a colander, rub through the pulp, place on the fire again and boil; add lastly one-fourth package of soup rings, one tablespoonful of butter and one of milk rubbed in two ounces of flour. When rings are tender the soup is ready.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION.

"Some philosophers say that objects which we call inanimate have thoughts and feelings."

"Maybe they have," rejoined Mr Cumrox. "If such is the case the piano my daughter practices on is a mighty patient brute."

MUCH VARIATION IN WOOD

Scientists Have Discovered Reason Why Some Resist Entrance and Action of Decay.

The reason why one kind of wood is more durable than another is owing to the fact that it contains the substance known as tylose in more generous quantities.

Tylose is the material which fills the pores of the wood and resists the entrance and action of decay.

For instance, white oak is well suited and much used for barrel staves where barrels are to contain liquid while, on the other hand, red oak, which is apparently of the same structure, is not at all suited for the purpose. A close examination of the white oak reveals the presence of the tylose which seals all the little pores of the wood. Red oak has none of the tylose. For this reason a fence post of white oak will last much longer in service than one of red. Timber engineers who inject creosote and other substances into wood to retard decay long ago made lists of species that were hard to treat, and others which were easy. The preservative fluids penetrate certain woods to a considerable depth when moderate pressure is applied; while others are almost impervious, no matter how great the pressure. Those hardest to penetrate by preservative fluids are those best supplied with tylose.

BUILDING THE NATIONAL LIFE

All Classes in This Country Now Seem to Be Engaged in That Occupation.

Harrison Rhodes, whose book, "In Vacation America," was published a few weeks ago, declares that our country life in its holiday aspect has attained to a cosmopolitanism that will contribute to the interests of international peace.

"We have English servants," says Mr. Rhodes, "but they bring breakfast to the bedrooms in the continental fashion and deal intrepidly with bathrooms and open plumbing in a way never to be acquired in Britain.

"Negro cooks prepare risotto, and Italians learn how to turn a buckwheat cake. The manners and customs of our most civilized classes in America are quite as much in the melting pot as those of our least.

"We are still feverishly engaged in assimilating and acclimatizing foreign ways, plowing, fertilizing and cultivating the whole field of national life."

Trouble at Customhouse.

The rotunda of the New York customhouse has a troublesome echo. One of the officers tells of the peculiarities of resonance in this hall. "When business is at its height, the noise of footsteps, slamming of books and desks, grinding of chairs and voices in different pitch, become a complicated roar. The most singular thing is this: When there are few on the floor I can hear everything that is said just across the hall; but if I try to speak to an officer, I cannot make myself understood." There is a marble-clad transverse gallery just north of the rotunda. People in this gallery may be out of sight, but their words travel into the rotunda, and if things are quiet there, they can be heard in many parts. In fact, the rotunda is like the belly of a bass violin which sounds play antics. Were one to attempt to speak to an audience or to lecture or sing in it, the echoes reverberating from one curved space to another would inevitably impair the clearness of utterance in the most practiced singer or speaker, and reduce his audience to despair.

The Cost.

War brings the heroic opportunity to the door of the average man, and the heroic incentive to the mind of the exceptional man. We deplore this kind of opportunity and this kind of incentive. The cost is fearful, to be reckoned largely in the price which others must pay; but men recognize the opportunity and feel the incentive. It would be worse than idle for us to ignore the quick transition which war may effect in responsive natures from the commonplace or the cynical to the sacrificial and the sublime. No one of us can deny, nor can we read unmoved, the testimony of those who have passed or are now passing through this experience.—W. T. Tucker in Atlantic.

To Launder Fringed Cloths.

Fringed cloths are often quite ruined in appearance at the laundry. They may be made to look like new for an indefinite period if when they are starched a little care is taken not to starch the fringe. Fold each cloth in four, like a handkerchief, and then gather the fringe of each part into the hand and hold it firmly while you dip the middle into the starch. When the cloth is dry shake the fringe well and comb it with a comb and it will fall as softly and prettily as when new.

ALWAYS A STAPLE PUDDING

Good Reasons Why Rice Cooked With Milk Has Remained a Favorite So Many Years.

There is perhaps no other pudding of equally great food value which is so inexpensive and palatable as the egg and rice pudding, or creamy rice pudding, as it is often called. It is but one of the several excellent ways of cooking rice with milk, but it does lend itself better to changes of flavor than any of the other ways, so may be used frequently without monotony.

Cooking in individual dishes with rather gentle heat, and for at least an hour and a half, with several stirrings in of the crust which forms on the top, creamy rice pudding is an attractive dessert, made more so by baking it in glass and finally adding a meringue. It is about equally good whether hot or cold. More than this, a considerable number of variations can be made without once adding an acid fruit which makes it less digestible. The long baking makes it both more digestible and palatable, and it is dainty of flavor if just the stirred-in top is all to give this.

The Recipe.—To each cupful of milk allow one tablespoonful of rice and one of sugar, or more if to taste, and one piece of candied ginger about an inch and a half long. Butter pudding dish, put into it the well-washed rice and milk, with sugar and the ginger cut in bits, bake in moderate oven for one hour and a half, stirring in the top at least three times.

BRIOCHE IS SOMETHING NEW

Guests at Luncheon or Tea Will Be Sure to Appreciate This Delicacy, Properly Made.

One cake yeast, one-half cupful milk, scalded and cooled, two tablespoonfuls sugar, four cupfuls sifted flour, one cupful butter, eight eggs, one teaspoonful salt.

Dissolve yeast and one tablespoonful sugar in luke-warm milk, add one cupful of flour to make sponge. Beat well. Cover and set to rise in warm place, free from draft, until light—about three-quarters of an hour.

To the rest of the flour add one tablespoonful sugar, butter softened, four eggs and salt. Beat all in well. Add sponge and beat again thoroughly; then the other four eggs, unbeaten, one at a time, beating thoroughly. Cover and let rise until light—about four hours, and beat again.

Chill in refrigerator overnight. In the morning, shape by rolling under hand into long strips about 27 inches long and three-fourths inch thick, bringing ends together, and twist like a rope. Form into rings, place on well-buttered pans to rise.

When double in size, glaze with white of egg diluted with water. Bake in a moderate oven fifteen minutes. Ice while hot, with plain frosting. Spread with almonds.

Fried Cream.

One pint of milk, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of butter, yolks of three eggs, two and one-quarter teaspoonfuls of cornstarch, one tablespoonful of flour, one teaspoonful of vanilla, a pinch of salt. Put the milk into the double boiler with the salt and a small piece of lemon rind. When scalded add the sugar—then cornstarch and flour which have been moistened in a little milk; stir until it is thickened, then pour it over the beaten yolks. Return to the stove for three minutes. Add the butter and vanilla and strain into a flat dish, making a layer three-quarters of an inch thick. It should be made the day before it is to be used. When ready to cook cut into pieces three inches long and two wide. It should be cut with a broad knife blade and handled very carefully. Cover each piece with sifted cracker crumbs, dip in egg and sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve on a folded napkin. The crust should be crisp and the center creamy.

Mother's Meat Cakes.

Wish someone would try my mother's meat cakes as a way of using leftover lamb. Take pieces left from either lamb or beef, put through meat chopper, season with salt and pepper, a little onion if liked and butter or gravy to make moist. Cook these in a saucepan until thoroughly blended. A few minutes is sufficient. Let cool and form into cakes. Set away in a cool place an hour or more. Make a batter of egg and milk and flour and a little baking powder. Dip in the cakes and fry a nice brown.

Larded Sweetbreads.

Put them in cold water, remove the pipes and membranes; cook them in boiling salted water, with one tablespoonful of lemon juice, 20 minutes and plunge into cold water to harden; dry, lard them with strips of salt pork and bake until brown, basting with brown stock. Serve with peas.

Nature's Kindly Healing.

An examination of the volcanoes of the Lesser Antilles has been made by Dr. Edmund O. Hovey, the first expedition undertaken with the aid of the Heilprin exploration fund established in memory of Angelo Heilprin. Doctor Hovey visited Guadeloupe, Martinique and St. Vincent. In the American Museum Journal he reported the present condition of the famous volcanoes in those islands. From the cone of Mt. Pelee considerable steam is still issuing, though much less in volume and lower in temperature than at the time Doctor Hovey's last previous visit, in 1903. On the windward side of the volcano new vegetation has fully established itself, and even the forest is being renewed. The famous spine, or obelisk, which once rose more than 600 feet above the cone, disappeared nearly ten years ago.

The Two Urchins.

A congressman in an address in Providence on preparedness said: "Before the looming danger of invasion the pacifist and the preparedness chap are, respectively, like Willie and Johnny. Willie and Johnny had been very naughty and were sent to bed by their mother. As they lay side by side footsteps were heard—it was now evening—and the two culprits realized that their father was mounting the stairs. They turned pale. 'I'm goin' to fold my hands as if I'd been prayin',' said Pacifist Willie, 'and then I'll pretend to be asleep when he comes in.' But Preparedness Johnny was already bustling swiftly about the room. 'I'm goin' to put on my pants,' he said, 'and line 'em with a newspaper.'"

SOUR BEEF WITH DUMPLINGS

Recipe Which Will No Doubt Find Favor With Anyone Who Is Moved to Try It.

Put three to four pounds of beef (the round is best) in a bowl and pour over it sufficient vinegar to cover. Set aside for 24 hours, turning and basting frequently. Brown two large onions, chopped fine, in two tablespoonfuls butter. Place meat in roasting pan, pour over it the brown onions and the vinegar in which it was soaked; add a few cloves, a blade of mace and a bit of allspice. Bay leaves and lemon peel may be added if desired. When browned and thoroughly cooked the liquor should be strained and thickened either with flour or grated ginger snaps.

Potato Dumplings. — Cream a piece of butter the size of an egg, add yolks of two eggs, half cupful stale bread crumbs and a cupful of cold boiled potatoes; put through the ricer; season with salt and nutmeg, and, lastly, add the beaten whites of the eggs. Make into small dumplings and drop into the boiling liquor in which meat was cooked, and boil, closely covered, for ten minutes.

Hot Chocolate Sauce.

One cupful of boiling water, one square or four large tablespoonfuls of chocolate, pinch of salt, half cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Cook all together slowly until it is the consistency of maple sirup, or thicker if desired. Just before serving add one teaspoonful of vanilla. This will keep indefinitely and can be reheated.

AGED GRANDMOTHER

So Weak She Could Hardly Stand—Made Strong by Vinol.

Right here in Charleroi we have seen such excellent results from Vinol that it is a pleasure to know it is doing so much good for old people in other parts of the country.

Woodridge, N. J.—"My Grandma was recovering from the grippe and was so weak she could hardly stand, and as she keeps house for my father and myself, she could not get around at all. She had taken cod liver oil and many other medicines, but nothing seemed to do her any good. At last we heard of Vinol and tried it, and Grandma commenced to feel better right away, and got strong very soon, so she gets around as well as ever. We all praise Vinol for it is a splendid medicine." Myrtle H. Bunn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in restoring strength to the aged is because of the rare combination of tonic iron, the curative medicinal extractives of fresh cods' livers, beef peptone and mild native wine. It supplies iron to the blood, quickens the appetite, aids digestion, promotes proper assimilation of food, and enriches the blood, and brings back the strength of renewed health.
